

HUGE SAYS SAVINGS HIT
R500 MILLION

The Huge Group, which owns managed telecommunications service provider Huge Telecom, reports that it has saved its customers over R500 million since its listing on the AltX in August 2007. Anton Potgieter, executive chairman of the Huge Group, says through its managed telecommunications solution, Huge Telecom saves its clients over R30 million a month, translating into R51.28 each second of the business day. Potgieter says: "Our savings figures are audited and verified, and reported to each of our customers each month."
